

“MUSIC IS AS ESSENTIAL AS BREATHING”

Gabi Rijnveld travelled the world as a professional concert pianist. Letting an audience enjoy and be moved by live music has always been her passion. Now, managing a Hifi brand, that passion is still the same; bringing live music to people.

Crystal Cable is all about developing highend products which enable people to experience listening to music as if they are attending a live concert.

But these products are far from just technically superb; they look beautiful as well. Finding the perfect balance between musicality, technology, innovation and design defines our brand. Each Crystal Cable product fits in every living room, regardless of its interior design or acoustics. It's this approach that makes Crystal Cable products unique in the high-end audio market: light, thin, flexible, beautifully designed - combined with the highest standards of sound-quality and engineering. After all, for recorded music to come alive, the products reproducing this have to be the same as the music itself: beautiful, meaningful and emotional.
